Your privacy is very important to us. Part of our operation of this Site involves the collection and use of information about you. This Privacy Policy explains what type of information we collect through the Site and what we do with that information to allow you to make choices about the way your information is collected and used. This Privacy Policy applies only to this Site and information collected through this Site. Please review the language of any contract you have with us for information regarding how your information (and information regarding your users, clients, and consumers) is handled pursuant to that contract.

Residents of certain states and countries have a number of specific rights and choices. See the Supplemental Privacy Notice sections below for further information.

Information We Collect

In general, you can visit this Site without identifying who you are or revealing any information about yourself. Information collected online can generally be categorized as anonymous or personally identifiable. "Anonymous Information" is information that cannot be connected to the identity of a specific individual. Personally identifiable information ("Personal Information") is information that specifically identifies a particular user, such as name, address, or phone number. An example of Anonymous Information is the fact that, while this Site may record the number of visits to a particular page that occur in a given period of time, it does not necessarily tell us the names or other identifying information of every visitor. Many users of this Site will choose not to provide any Personal Information; therefore, those individuals are anonymous to us, and any data collected about their use of this Site is Anonymous Information.

How We Collect Information

We collect information in the following ways:

- Data Collected Automatically. When you use the Site, we automatically collect certain data and information regarding your use of the Site. This information may include device identifiers such as IP addresses, location information, browser type, operating system, and other information regarding your use of the Site, including a history of the pages you view.
- "Cookies". When you use the Site, we may store some data on your computer in the form of a "cookie" to automatically recognize your device the next time you visit. Cookies are small data files, typically made up of a string of text and numbers, that assign you a unique identifier. This information enables your computer to have a "dialogue" with our

Site and permits us to administer our Site more efficiently and to provide a more tailored and user-friendly service to you. Cookies can help us in many ways, for example, by allowing us to tailor the Site to better match your interests. You can remove or block cookies in some circumstances, but this may limit functionality of the Site. You may delete cookies that are already on your computer, and stop cookies from being accepted in the future, by referring to your manufacturer's instructions by clicking "Help" in your browser menu. All browser settings are slightly different, so to manage cookies, you should refer to the relevant settings within your browser. If you would like to obtain more detailed information about types of cookies, how they are used, and how you can manage your cookie preferences, you may want to visit www.aboutcookies.org or www.allaboutcookies.org. You may delete cookies that are already on your computer, and stop cookies from being accepted in the future, by referring to your manufacturer's instructions by clicking "Help" in your browser menu. You can also opt out of a third party vendor's use of cookies by visiting www.networkadvertising.org/choices or <http://optout.aboutads.info>.

- Volunteered Information. When you contact us through the Site or communicate with us in any other way, you are voluntarily releasing information to us, some or all of which may be Personal Information.
- Information from Third Parties. We may also obtain Personal Information about you from our affiliates or third parties, such as partners with whom we offer mixed/joint services, our service providers, advertisers, social networks (when you grant us permission to access your data on one or more networks), or publicly available sources and data providers.
- Online Tracking. This Site does not respond to "Do Not Track" signals.

How We Use Information We Collect

We use information we collect about Site visitors to help us operate the Site, to provide services that you have requested, to complete transactions requested by you, to respond to your inquiries, and for our own marketing purposes. Through these tools, we collect information including but not limited to the collection of device-specific information, log information, location information, cookie-related information, and visitor behavior information. The information generated about your use of the Site (including IP address) is transmitted to Google, and this information is then used to evaluate the Site and to compile statistical reports on Site activity, and to provide advertisements in search results, banner ads on third party websites, or in other forms. We use this information to better understand use of this Site and topics of interest among site visitors. You can view Google’s privacy policy here, and you may opt out of your data being used by Google Analytics at <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout/>
